ADMINISTRATION

FOREWORD

This issue of the Ceniad chronicles the senior year of the fiftieth graduating class of East Lansing High School. This golden anniversary, in effect, of the school indeed presents a marked contrast to its comparatively humble beginnings in 1909. Through the years the high school has occupied no less than four buildings and the grammar school from which it arose an additional four.

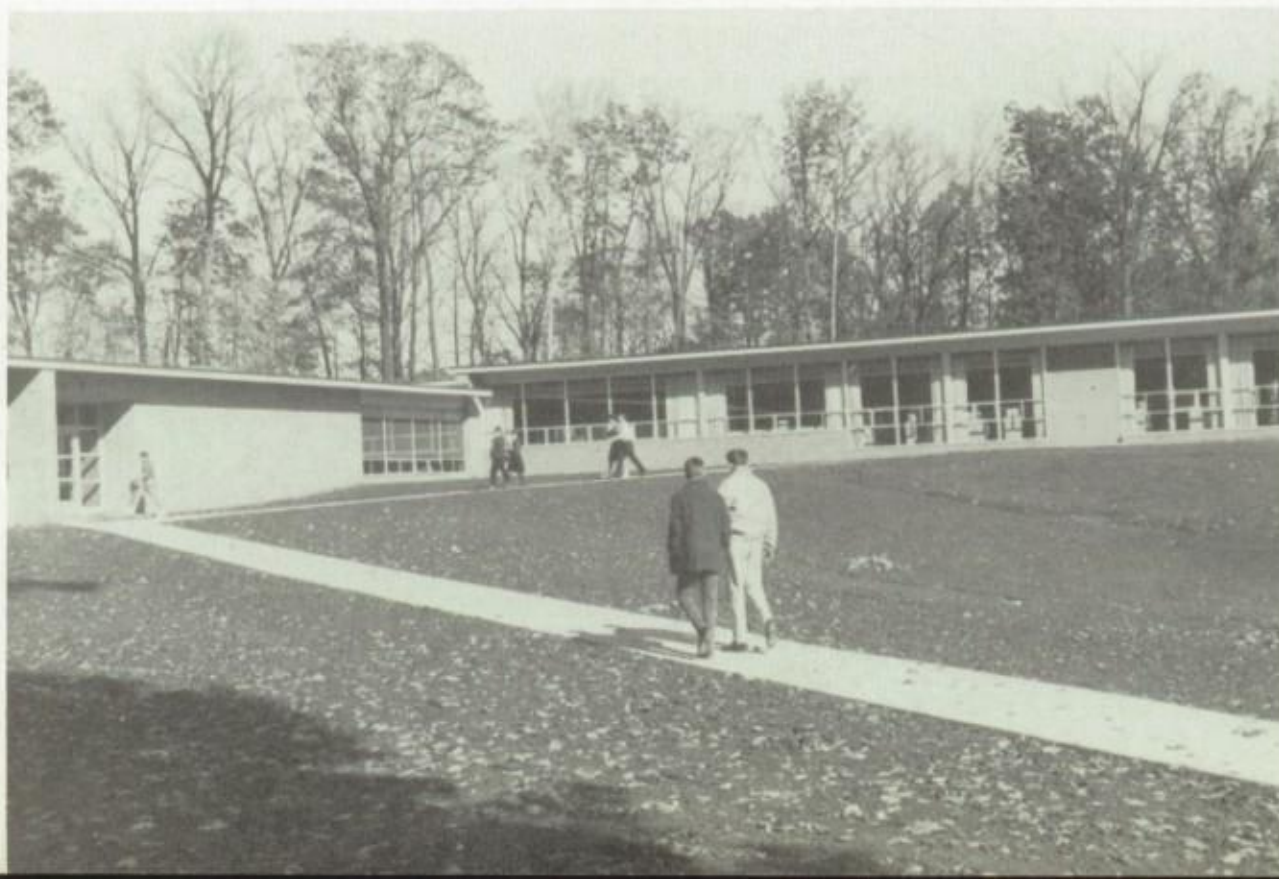

The school system began in 1900 in the Y.M.C.A. room of Williams Hall on the M.A.C. campus with six grades, twenty-three students, and one teacher. From there, the school went to M.A.C. President Snyder's barn until the new, modest school building on the site of the present Central School was completed. A few of the grades were forced in 1901 to move temporarily to a rooming house known as the White Elephant, but returned in 1905 after the first of many additions was made.

In 1909 the decision was made to include a high school in East Lansing's educational program. The ninth grade was added that year, another grade being added each succeeding year until 1912 when the high school was complete. Then, in the wispy summer breezes of June, 1913, all seven members of the first class of East Lansing High School were graduated.

However, in 1916 the old building and all its additions burned down and the school activities were transferred to People's Church properties just east of Abbott Road on Grand River Avenue until the new school building, the present Central School, was completed the following year. It was there the first issue of the Ceniad was published in 1920. After that, the high school moved to the present junior high building in 1927 and then in 1956 to the one we are now in today.

The world is always changing, and we never know what to expect next. From about forty students and six teachers in 1913 the high school has grown to eleven hundred students and sixty teachers; perhaps the next fifty years will see expansion again at an even faster rate. Whatever happens, those who have graduated can always be secure in the knowledge that the community of East Lansing, the Board of Education, and the faculty will provide the best education possible for the students of East Lansing High School.

Our present high school building was opened in September, 1956. Since then rooms have been added in the summers of 1959, 1960, and 1961. Further additions are planned before 1965 when we expect over 1600 pupils to be enrolled in East Lansing High School.

Since the life of a school building is at least 40 to 50 years, it is fairly certain that our building will still be housing high school pupils in the year 2000.

What changes will have taken place by the year 2000? We can only guess. These are some of the guesses I will make:

Class schedules will be much more flexible. At present it is our practice to place a certain number of pupils in a given class and schedule the class to meet the same teacher four times each week. The one teacher handles the entire program in the subject area for all the pupils in his classes.

Some leaders in educational thinking are predicting that we will have a number of teachers working with pupils in the same subject area, and that much more flexible scheduling will be required to permit this type of instruction.

A very well-prepared teacher-specialist will present the material of the course to large groups of pupils. New topics, units, and concepts will be introduced and related to other knowledge. Interest will be stimulated and reasons for study understood. Understanding of terms will be developed. Problems to be solved by pupils will be considered.

Space does not permit a more detailed listing of activities that will be undertaken by large groups, but about forty per cent of a pupil's time will be spent in the large groups.

About twenty per cent of time will be spent in small groups for examination of terms and concepts and solution of problems.

The other forty per cent of a pupil's time will be spent in individual study. He will read, listen to records and tapes, experiment, write, record, visit, and self-appraise his progress.

Future expansion of our high school building facilities will, no doubt, be made in terms of the new type of program. The term-teaching facility in the latest classroom wing is an indication of the trend.

We have areas for large-group instruction, such as the auditorium and cafeteria. Others may be needed. We have many classrooms that may be used for small-group instruction, and even individual work. However, we will need more facilities for working with pupils in counselling and individualized instructional activities.

American public schools have gone through a period of tremendous expansion. As an example, while our total population has grown four times, the enrollment in our public high schools has grown eighty times. There will be continued growth, but we shall be increasingly concerned that our curriculum better meets the needs of pupils, and that our instruction shall be such that pupils will be better motivated to attain their potential.

Mr. Cecil MacDonald
Superintendent of Schools

A LOOK INTO THE FUTURE

The East Lansing Board of Education

Mr. Lee Kinney
Principal

In the year 1913 the first senior class graduated from East Lansing High School. There were seven members in this graduating class. The past 50 years has seen our high school grow, with the expansion of our community, to a high school graduating over 200 students in 1961 and 1962. In 1965 the graduating class will be over 300 students. This year our enrollment is 1100 students in the upper four grades. With the increase in enrollment our curriculum has expanded, and students now graduate with a total of twenty-four credits. The students are allowed to carry four, five, or six academic credits depending upon their capability and maturity. Each class meets 70-minutes, four times a week with supervision of study provided as part of each class activity. This study includes group study, individual study in the classroom, laboratory, and library. This study is supplemented by assigned homework. Students are encouraged to enrich their program by adding academic courses as well as enrichment courses in music, art, creative writing, dramatics, shop, home-making, and commercial subjects. At this time there are a total of 73 different courses in our curriculum.

A HALF CENTURY OF PROGRESS - PAST AND FUTURE

Mrs. Dorothy Lucas
Assistant Principal

The next 50 years will find East Lansing High School continuing to grow in size as the community of East Lansing continues to grow. Trends in secondary education in the next 50 years seem to point towards the high school taking a more unique roll in the education experiences of our youth. The impact of modern technology will enhance teaching techniques, as well as, affect the curriculum offerings at our high school. Course content will constantly be under revision as the needs of our society change. Trends point at this time towards the continuing development of techniques to provide for large group instruction, group discussion, and individual study. The use of technical aids and revised instructional techniques will encourage the development of critical thinking, the expanded use of laboratory facilities, and the continued development of the investigative approach to learning.

We are sure that the quality of education at East Lansing High School will continue to meet the needs of its students in the challenging years ahead. The fine cooperation of the community will continue, through its Board of Education, to provide quality education for the youth of East Lansing.

Our health is in their hands.

IF AT FIRST

The Junior Future Nurses Club had many activities this year. Its members visited area hospitals to find out more about nursing and enjoyed several speakers. Other activities were a Christmas party for hospitalized children and fund-raising projects for needy causes. Lenka Muntyan, president; Sally Elliot, vice-president; Rusty Huff, secretary; and Linda Nelson, treasurer; led the club this year. Mrs. Howard was the sponsor.

Does it tickle?

It's not all easy.

The Nursing Club's members had a very busy year this year, sponsoring sales, hearing speakers, visiting hospitals and nursing homes (even working in them or for them) and learning different nursing techniques from experts. Even in the midst of all these activities, the Future Nurses were typical efficient nurses and found time to elect their officers: Nancy Stickle, president; Janina Bielinski, vice-president; Sue Copper, secretary; Diane Taylor, treasurer; and Virginia Amundsen, program chairman. Mrs. Ramant was the sponsor.

TEACHING IS OUR BUSINESS

Just like the proverbial busman's holiday, an outing for Future Teachers' Club members is going to school! But the twist is that such a day is spent at Marble or Pinecrest or any of the East Lansing elementary schools or at the junior high observing from the teacher's point of view how the class is being conducted.

The club is affiliated with the Future Teachers of America and is also part of a state organization which held its annual convention in March at St. Marys Lake with delegates and visitors representing our local F.T.A. Other outings included a day as guests at a meeting of the East Lansing Teachers Association, an evening at Sexton High School with Delta Kappa Gamma Society (an international honorary fraternity for women teachers), another evening as participants in an area F.T.A. workshop sponsored by Okemos High School, and a field trip to visit the Education Building on the M.S.U. campus.

Programs have included guest speakers, films, and discussions and were always followed with a social time with refreshments served. Service projects have included ushering for an M.E.A. district meeting and offering a tea for high school teachers and for those teachers whose rooms were observed on F.T.A. visitation day.

Club sponsors this year were Mrs. Rall and Mrs. Smith and officers included Annette MacQueen, president; Judy Patriarche, vice-president; Julie Chamberlain, secretary; Ann Reatherstone, treasurer; Mary Petoskey, parliamentarian; and Carolyn Coohan, librarian-historian.

We've got what it takes

We're well advertised.

THE BUREAUCRACY

Mugwump? Whig? Prohibitionist? You'll find your place here at The Political Forum—even if you're a Democrat or a Republican! The club has heard speakers and tapes, seen movies, and has had reports by members on important events in state, national, and world politics. Two highlights were a freedom idea explaining his views and a visit to the Constitutional Convention. Officers this year (elected by an open, primary-runoff election) were Tom Brookover, president; Gordon Jones, vice-president; Kathy Farrell, secretary-treasurer. Sponsor is Mr. Meulendyke.

Dolphins have dull fins, but the Porpoises are as sharp as shark's teeth when they knife through the water. The members, most of them on the swimming team, spent club periods "floundering" around and otherwise acted as a service club for the swimming team. For their outside activities, they sold candy, organized the swim banquet, and worked towards buying an electric scoreboard for meets. Sponsored by Mr. Hagerman, the club chose as its officers: Joe Buys, president; Tom Hewitt, vice-president; Don McCaffree, secretary; Dugie Tryon, treasurer.

Girls, girls and more girls — or are they mermaids?

Marvelous mermaids mimicking mature minnows made mostly the members of the Aquettes this year. The members, all of whom had had previous swimming experience, spent their meetings practicing just plain swimming and also developing precision in the art of synchronized swimming with Miss Gregor calling the

The Spanish Club is designed to further acquaint its members with the customs and language of Spanish-speaking peoples. This year the club's activities toward this end centered around planning and participating in a Spanish Christmas party, seeing movies of Spanish-speaking countries and hearing speakers discuss various topics relating to Spanish. At Christmastime the group collected provisions for a needy family. Officers were Ann Kerrey, president; Craig Hayes, vice-president; Mary Ellen Moreland, secretary; and Jane Distel, treasurer. Mrs. Rodner was the club sponsor.

OLYMPICS OR BUST

Will it ever come down?

The Girls' Athletic Association (G.A.A.) provides a wonderful opportunity for girls who have a special interest in athletics and who enjoy the recreation and competitive spirit that sports offer. The G.A.A. was very busy this year: its members played flag football, tennis, basketball, badminton, and field hockey. Other sports such as swimming, bowling, archery, and horseback riding were also popular. Mrs. Carlisle sponsored the club, and its officers this year were Chris Lundberg, president; Ann Kerrey, vice-president; Gail Durkee, secretary; and Ann Whiteside, treasurer.

Y-Teens sponsored a very successful Snowball, "Crimson Twilight," in December. Two representatives were sent to the mid-winter conference. Other activities included a spring fashion show, a mother-daughter tea and a slumber party, no less! Rabbi Frankel also spoke to the group and a sorority panel was present at one of the meetings. The club was under the very able leadership of Mary O'Neil, President; Nancy Roe, Vice-President; Judy Elliott, Secretary; and Jo Bowerman, Treasurer. Tina Holmes and Joy Ann Ziegler served as Inter-Club Representatives and Mrs. Jennings is the club sponsor.

PROGRESS IS OUR MOST

The Student Council, the most representative student organization, was led this year by President John McQuitty. Capably assisting him were Vice-President Bob Borosage, Secretary Jamie Haley, Treasurer Joy Ann Ziegler, and Parliamentarian Dan Seifer.

The Council acts as a link between the administration and the students and works for the betterment of the high school in every way possible. This year, as in years past, the Council was involved in many activities of various kinds. It helped the Trojan Triangle with the organization and planning of the Community Ball, choosing committee heads and organizing the various committees themselves. The Council also took charge of the yearly magazine drive, from which the proceeds were used to finance its many projects, some of which were the charity drive, shrubbery for the school and a donation to Radio Free Europe.

However, aside from its many traditional activities, the Student Council has made many important innovations this year. The scholarship excellence award provides for presentation of an appropriate ribbon to the class having the highest percentage of its members on the honor roll. The proposed exchange assembly with Eastern, long a subject of interest, was finally brought about this year. The Booster Club was incorporated as a Student Council committee, having previously been an autonomous club. This group was also responsible for arranging to have a mailbox placed in front of the school for the convenience of students and faculty. Two open council meetings were sponsored, enabling students selected by their homerooms to ask questions of the Council members. Pictures of athletic teams were placed in the lower hall. All in all, the Student Council does indeed, as its constitution says, "promote the best interests of the school."

E MEN

Besides their noon-hour sessions and wild but entertaining initiations, the Varsity Club sponsored the Turkey Tromp during football season and sold programs at the home basketball games. Bob Salzer led the club as president and was assisted by vice-president Tom Runquist and secretary-treasurer Rick Prince. Anyone earning a varsity letter in any sport is eligible to become a member; however he must survive the initiation ceremonies.

BROADWAY IS OUR

Watch out for that eye-shadow!

The Junior Drama Club, under the advisorship of Mrs. Sharer, had a very inspiring year. It was led by Rick Larson, president; Bob Karusoe, vice-president; Evelyn Emery, secretary; and Jim Cline, treasurer. The purpose of the club, introducing dramatics, was carried out by their various activities, some of which were the practice of pantomimes, monologues and physical exercises designed to increase stage presence.

Play acting is a serious business.

Next step: Broadway.

NEXT BIG STEP

Shall we do light comedy or serious drama?

Lights, camera, action! This was a familiar phrase to the Senior Drama Club during the past year. Sponsored by Mr. Barr, the organization had an active and interesting year, giving an assembly of two one-act plays, sponsoring an hour dance, hearing guest speakers discuss problems of the theater, assisting with school plays in various ways and attending the annual State Drama Day. Many members who participated in plays as actors or stage hands or provided publicity were initiated into the Thespian Society, the national drama organization with which the club is affiliated. Leading the club were Mary Cunningham, president; Ian Schmidt, vice-president; Sue Derengoski, secretary; Joan Clark, treasurer; Judi Dow, scribe.

Taken from the 1920, Ceniad Dedication

To the coming classes of East Lansing High School, in the hope that they will follow in our footsteps and each year publish a book of memories such as we have attempted to do, and in grateful recognition of the splendid cooperation they have given us, do we, the members of this class of 1920, most sincerely dedicate this Ceniad.

The Ceniad staff this year has had the privilege of publishing a somewhat special edition of the year-book, commemorating the fifty years during which East Lansing High School has been graduating students. They have included a few special features which they hope the students, their parents, and other members of the community will enjoy. To some these pages may bring laughs and to others a few nostalgic remembrances of their own high school days.

The staff celebrated the completion of the book with a party after a hard, hectic, harassing, but very enjoyable year.

Oh, merry, merry editors are we!

ARTISTS ? OF COURSE!

Meetings were employed to teach members basic techniques in sketching, printing, metal tooling, drawing, display and sculpture; these were practiced and improved upon outside of class. Students who like or are interested in art but nevertheless do not take it as a regular course have a chance to use whatever talents they may possess in the Art Club. In addition to club periods, members can also make use of their own free time to participate in the club's activities, which cover the whole range of art from posters to pottery.

During the past year their officers were Bob Lyons, president; Anna Billings, vice-president; and Janet Bedford, secretary-treasurer. The sponsors were Mrs. Cossey and Mrs. Lind.

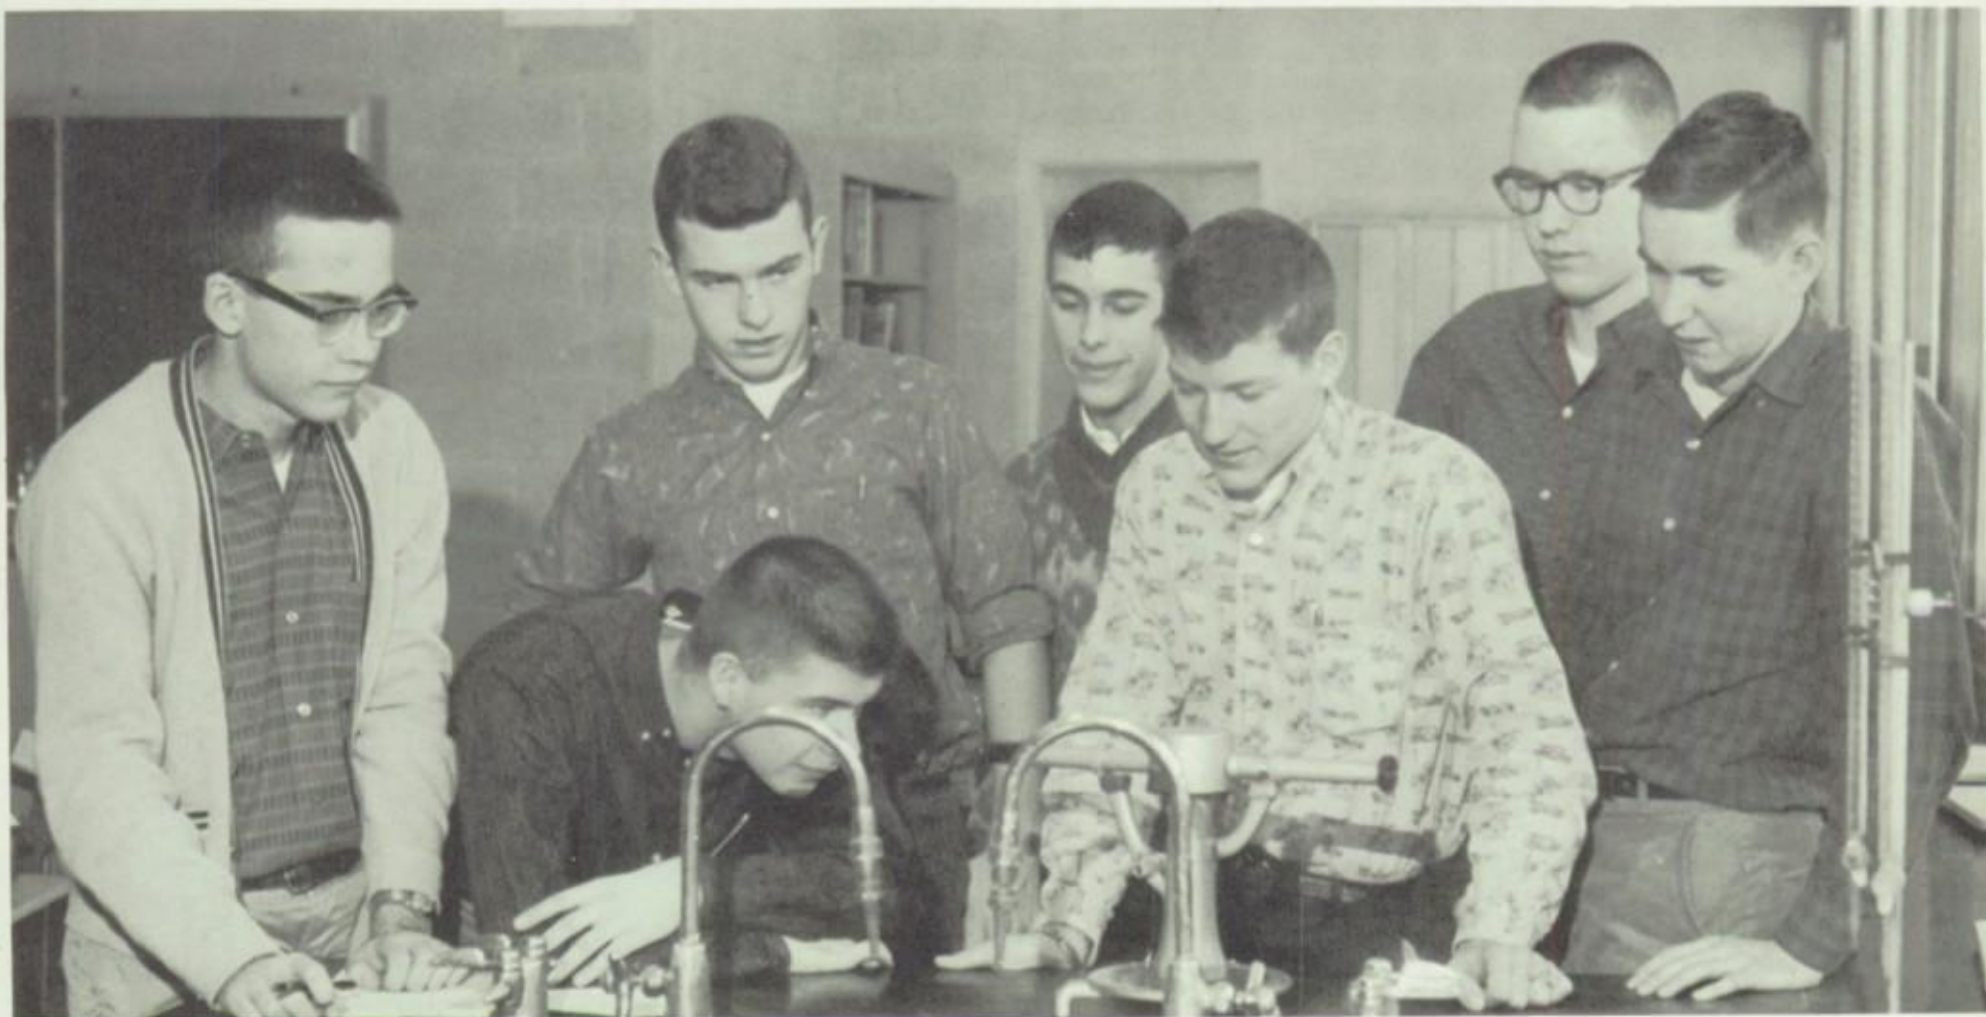

Are you sure the pottery business is profitable.

SCIENTISTS OF 2000 A.D.

I spy . . .

You wind it up and it comes out here.

The Jets Club, the local branch of the national Junior Engineering Technical Society, aims to further the interest of students in engineering, science, and technology. Besides hearing speeches by men engaged in allied fields and seeing movies on pertinent subjects, the club members spend much time working out unusual experiments. Field trips to see how these areas of learning are actually implemented in the world of business and manufacturing are also an important part of the club's work, and members have visited the River Rouge Steel Plant, Dow Chemical in Midland and the Flint Planetarium. The assembly, provided for the school by students of Jets Club, is always anticipated eagerly because of the unusual and spectacular effects produced by the experiments done on stage. Club officers were Bill Evans, president; John Mattern, vice-president; Joel Hoffman, recording secretary; Carolyn Hickok, corresponding secretary; and Jack Kleinhaus, treasurer. Mr. Sebeson sponsored the organization.

I hear ya' knockin'. . .

TWELVE POINTS AND OUT

Master Mechanics

The Custom Auto Club presents as its aims the improvement of its members' knowledge and skills in car customization and the promotion of safety. The main project of the club this year was the customization of Don Hutchinson's 1953 Olds. Sponsor is Mr. Carlisle; the officers this year were Bud Warner, president, Stan Burrus, vice-president, Keith Marsland, secretary, and Romaine Hamburger, treasurer.

The vitals.

THINK OR THWIM

The Life Guard Club, under sponsorship of Miss Gregor, had a very successful year. Led by Jackie Stockton, president; Pat Erler, vice-president; Mary Sternberg, secretary; and Joan Bennett, treasurer, the club spent the year improving their performance of life saving techniques and promoting water safety. The club also guarded at swim meets and sponsored an hour dance at which the club provided a water safety display.

THE BIG SELL

Yes, we have no bananas!

We even sell brand "X".

"What do you have?" is commonly heard by members of the Student Store Club, an organization which is generally interested in keeping the E.L.H.S. students well stocked with paper, pencils, notebooks, and candy goodies. The Student Store, under the sponsorship of Mr. Nelson, has been the major source of money with which such things as the new concession stand have been built. Their major project this year was the purchase of coat racks for the coat check room. The making of money isn't the only thing the members of the club are interested in. They planned several outside activities such as the club trip to "Holiday on Ice" this year. The student managers were Diane Lansing and Bob Lewis. The assistant managers were Nancy Thorp, Art Seaman, Tina Holmes and Janet Dean. The bookkeeper was Julie Bennett.

THE SAFETY CLUB IS WATCHING YOU

Guard against the safety club.

Let's take a drive around the block.

Rich, Bob and the gang!

Our halls and parking lot benefit from the efforts of the hard-working Safety Club, which is in charge and on the scenes. Their purpose in being present in these places is to promote greater safety by keeping the halls orderly during the noon rush and by helping their sponsor, Mr. Dolan, supervise the student parking lot.

One of the ideas under consideration this year was a safety check of cars in the school parking lot, a project to be carried out under the auspices of the East Lansing Kiwanis Club. New to the school this year, the club elected the following officers: Nancy Story, president; Terry Kirk, vice-president; and Suzie Powell, treasurer.

Safety last!!

ARE BAND - WILL TRAVEL

My arrangement doesn't sound like yours.

Let's get it right this time!

The Dance Band Club made the sound of music here and there many times during the year. Their plans for the year included playing at hour dances, putting on an assembly, and even playing at university dances and parties (professionally). Under the direction of Mr. Bartlett and Roland Mack, the club gave the school's musicians a chance to explore the field of stage band music, a new experience for some.

TOUJOUR FRANCAIS

The French Banquet is getting underway.

Wishing, hoping . . . . . will they ever get to France?

Testing . . . un, deux, trois!

On parle francais ici aussi — and they also see slides, play French games, have a special Christmas party, help with the French Banquet in the spring, and generally get a better understanding of French culture and the French people and customs. The French club was sponsored by Mrs. Hamilton; the officers were President Harvey Dahljelm, Vice-President Janet Smith, Secretary Judy Bowles, and Treasurer Kathy Bedford.

AHHH . . . FRANCE

And where's the Moulin Rouge?

Parlez—vous francais? These people do. Under the supervision of Mrs. Rose Johnston the advanced French club kept itself very busy this year. Among its activities were giving a French banquet, sponsoring candy and spudnut sales and decorating the hall bulletin boards. To promote interest in the French language the club had speakers, slides, and movies on and about France. Leading the club members in their various activities were Nick Waite, president; Jo Ivey, secretary; and Marjorie Dethmers, treasurer.

I love puppet shows, every moment — every moment of the year!

Fromage . . . . . (there's always one in the crowd).

CHECK OR CHECKMATE?

No wonder it's quiet—no girls!!!

"Now that was a clever move except . . ."

Checkmate! No, not a T.V. program, but the cry of a successful member of the Chess Club, and heard frequently at many of the matches with other schools in which the club participates. Mr. Norris, sponsor, Sam Knox, Jr., Walt Haney, and Claude Ribas helped the other members to promote interest and develop proficiency in chess with an intra-club tournament to check on their progress.

LATIN-A LIVING LANGUAGE

How can we raise money for the Latin Banquet?

Studetis Latinam? If so, come to the Latin Club! Providing a background in Latin and enrichment in Roman culture, the club's members enjoyed seeing films, playing games of Latin mythological characters and authors, and having the annual Latin Banquet for present and former Latin students. A highlight of the year came when Dr. Seaman, head of the Latin Department at M.S.U., showed slides of Rome and Roman antiquities. Affiliated with the national organization, the "Junior Classical League", the club was led this year by John McIntosh, president; Carolyn Seaman, vice-president; Elizabeth Hunt, secretary; and Jim Adams, treasurer.

Gallia est omnis divisa in partes tres—and so are the slaves at the Latin Banquet.

AND WHAT PHYLUM DOES THIS GO IN?

Protozon, Arthropoda, Thallophyte, or Mammalia—no matter how you've classified, if you like biology, you belong here. Sponsored by Mr. Walker, the biology club members become better acquainted with the biological sciences through research projects, field trips, and lectures, John Potter, Jim Schweigert, Brian Dalrymple, and Eva Brown were president, vice-president, secretary, and treasurer, respectively.

THE FOURTH ESTATE

Don't forget the lead paragraph!

The "Trojan Trumpet", East Lansing High School's newspaper hopes to build school spirit, to promote better relations with other schools, to aid in developing high standards of conduct within the school, and to unify the community and the school by making known the whole story of how the school works inside and outside the classroom. The "Trumpet" is now printed more like a commercial newspaper having become larger with more articles and pictures and having changed its whole format. The "Trumpet" is sponsored by Miss Cuff and Miss Findley. Charles Wells and Joanne Damon were co-editors, Chris Lundberg was news editor, Joy Ann Zeigler was feature editor, Allen Philbrick was sports editor, Jane Porter was the special columnist, and Carolyn Hickok was copy editor.

Printer's ink in their blood?

WHO? WHAT? WHEN? WHERE? WHY?

The editorial board.

Developing an interest in journalistic writing and providing a supporting organization for the Trojan Trumpet are the two main functions of the Journalism Club. The organization meets during X period and the members work on improving their writing techniques and conducted several sales and participated in field trips. Miss Cuff is the sponsor and the officers are: Jim Votruba, President; Kieth Cassey, Vice-President; and Judy Elliott, Secretary-Treasurer.

"Let's go, E.L., Let's go!!!" And everybody goes for EL's cheerleaders! Promoting school spirit in every way, the cheerleaders are on the scene at all football and basketball games and promote attendance at other athletic events. The meetings Friday and an after-school meeting on Tuesday serve as rehearsals for those big games on Friday and Saturday night. The club also had an after-school pom-pom sale, a spudnut sale, and sponsored an hour dance. The club is sponsored by Miss Nelson; the officers this year were Co-captains Anne Berg and Margie Oates, Secretary Joey Heckert, Corresponding Secretary Beth Byerrum, Treasurer Cathy Cuthbertson.

TA - RA - RA

Follow the shining baton.

Fortissimo Con Brio, young man!

Beginning with a pre-school work-out for the marching band and ending with an orchestra performance at the commencement exercises, the instrumental music department leads an active existence in the study of music, ensemble development, individual musical advancement as well as active participation in school events and outside guest appearances.

The Activity Band is set up primarily for the development in musical skills through basic studies and solo experiences. Full band ensemble is also pursued, culminating in a performance at the annual mid-winter concert. A unit in marching is also used to prepare the students for marching band the following year. Students may also elect Activity Band if they are not able to meet the necessary requirements of outside rehearsals and performances of the Varsity Band.

BOOM - DE - AY

The Varsity Band is a performing organization made up primarily of upperclassman. This band made seven marching appearances at football games and with selected members forming a pep band, appeared at all home basketball games. Highlight of the year for the Varsity Band was a guest appearance at the annual mid-western music conference in Ann Arbor. As one of three high school bands invited, this East Lansing band played superbly. Other performances of the school year included an appearance at the mid-winter and a Spring Concert and contest appearances at both the District Festival and State Festival. Another featured performance was the school assembly program late in the spring.

THE BEST, FOR SUCCESS

The Symphony Orchestra had a most successful year. Considered by many to be one of the finest high school orchestras in the state, the East Lansing orchestra qualified again for the state festival by earning a first division for its performance at the district festival in Jackson. Along with its festival appearances the orchestra played in the annual Mid-Winter and Spring Concerts. There was also a guest appearance at the Regional Michigan Educators'

Institute and an assembly at St. Johns High School. An assembly for East Lansing High School students and a performance at the annual Commencement exercises completed the active year for this organization.

Students in all three organizations also competed in the District and State Solo and Ensemble Festivals representing East Lansing proudly with many first division awards.

THEY LEAD OUR BAND

This year the Varsity Band was very capably led by drum major, Roland Mack. The drum major helps to plan the halftime shows and works with the director at all times during marching season. Concert season is no change, for the drum major continues his hard work, planning and assisting with the varsity band's concerts.

Mary Lee Guyer

Gail Durkee, Mary Lee Guyer, and Barbara Lipp were the majorettes, selected, like the drum major, after extensive tryouts. Their baton twirling has helped make the marching band the colorful organization it is.

Chamber Choir

The Elsingers were led by Mr. Steiner and Mrs. Acevedo. This select group performed before the East Lansing combined P.T.A., the Trade and Industrial Education meeting, and a number of groups at the Kellogg Center. They braved the worst snowstorm of the season to sing at the Williamston 4-H Club. They entertained Lansing Eastern students program for our own student body. At the district festival in Hillsdale, the Elsingers achieved straight 1's, the highest ratings possible.

The choirs carried on theory and voice development under the watchful eyes of Mr. Steiner and Mrs. Acevedo.

An ensemble from Girls' Chamber Choir also attained a straight 1 rating at the Hillsdale festival. The combined chamber choirs performed Brahms' Requiem at People's Church. The combined choirs displayed their talents at a spring concert.

This year the annual girl-bid Snowball took place on December 9. Co-chairmen Penny Rouman and Charlene Prince worked hard to carry out the original theme of Crimson Twilight. The decorations consisted of colorful balloons strung across the ceiling and pink and black paper along the walls depicting twilight and night. Bill Hart supplied the entertainment for the enjoyable evening.

Everyone had a wonderful time at "Midnight in Manhattan," the 1962 J-Hop. The Don Jackson Band was featured on the peppermint bandstand, which offset the New York skyscrapers which were used as the decor, and for refreshments the Stork Club offered punch and cookies of various kinds. At midnight, Manhattan became a dream of the past, but it will live long in the memories of all who attended.

A smear here, a smear there.

The Senior Play, "Onions in the Stew", by Betty MacDonald, made a wonderful evening and proved to be a great success for the Class of '62.

The work was a riotous chronicle of one year of life on an island in Washington. It ran the full gamut of experiences, from continually defective plumbing and unexpected guests to "yellowjackets in the living room" Mr. Barr helped put the finishing touches on a thoroughly enjoyable experience.

POWER OF THE PRESENT

From the end of August to the middle of November, the sixteen dedicated young seniors were making the 1961 grid fortunes of E.L.H.S.

Although dropping games to Sexton and Everett, the '61 Trojans had a admirable 7-2 record for their first year in Class A football, winning a co-championship berth in the New South Central Conference. The 21-0 drubbing of Eastern and the defensive battle with Battle Creek Lakeview that wound up E.L. 7, B.C. 0, highlighted the season.

The seniors on the team were Dave Van Vliet, all-city and all-state, Lynn Hedeman, Al Zinn, Tom Runquist, Mark Waite, John Truitt, Dave Bliss, Tom Thompson, Rick Prince, Tom Brookover, Larry Clements, Dan Siefer, Randy Shackleton, Chuck Pedrey, and the managers, Jim Goodrich and Dugie Tyron.

John McQuitty followed fellow senior John Salzer as the second E.L. harrier to have an undefeated dual-meet record for one season, displaying brilliant running for the Trojans all year. The harriers dominated the S.C.C. and placed men high in The Greyhound Invitational and regional meets. All in all, it was a very successful year for the Trojan runners.

SOUTH CENTRAL

East Lansing's basketball team under Mr. Ganakas had a dazzling season. They went undefeated through sixteen regular season games on their way to the S.C.C. championship and one district clash with Everett before dropping a 58-57 crusher to Eastern for the district title. The Trojans defeated Everett three times, and twice conquered its other two South Central Conference foes, Battle Creek Lakeview, and Adrian. East Lansing also handed Coldwater, Owosso, and Mt. Pleasant two defeats each. Sexton, Eastern, Grand Ledge, and Jackson all fell once before the mighty Trojans.

John Truitt and Jim Hornberger finished 1-2 in the city scoring championship for individual honors.

Bang!

Coach Hagerman's tankers had their most successful season in history. They took 8th place in the Cereal Bowl Relays and went on to compile a 9-2 dual meet record. The 9 wins included two victories over each of our South Central Conference foes Adrian, Battle Creek Lakeview, and Everett, two over State class B champion East Grand Rapids, and an upset of Sexton. Lansing Eastern and Lansing Sexton each dumped East Lansing once for the two losses.

The Trojans climaxed the season by sweeping the South Central Conference Championships - East Lansing — 102, Adrian — 68, Everett — 58, B.C.L. — 50. Senior co-captain Joe Buys and junior Jeff Amundsen led E.L. by capturing two individual crowns apiece. Sophomore Ed Poter and senior co-captain Tom Hewett were also individual champs.

Buys also finished 7th in the state championships in the individual medley. The freestyle relay team of Dick Giltner, Tom Hewett, Joe Buys, and Jeff Amundsen placed 9th in the meet.

FROM THE 1920 CENIAD ALSO

The 1920 Ceniad, which we believe to be the first edition, has been the staff's chief resource for historical data. To this book we are indebted for the following information:

The 1958 basketball team was not the first East Lansing High team to capture a state championship. The girls' basketball squad of 1920 produced our first state crown with a 13-0 record. Six girls played on the undefeated team that outscored in total points such teams as Saginaw Eastern, Birmingham, Flint, and Battle Creek, 639-212. This powerful team of the past crushed Perry 58-0 and Lake Odessa 58-0 and 95-5 in the year's best efforts.

The boy's seven-man team was not quite so successful; however, it still managed to have a winning 9-8 record. Marshall, Battle Creek, and Albion were among their opponents. For practice sessions they scrimmaged college juniors and seniors from M.A.C. The final scores of these games varied from a 17-1 victory to a "basket blitzing" 51-16 defeat.

To quote the 1920 Ceniad on the subject of basketball, "The indomitable high school spirit was ever present."

"GALA, GALA HOMECOMING"

Queen Kris
King John

Neither rain nor snow
nor hail nor sleet shall stay Homecoming on its yearly round.
This year it was rain that tried to ruin the festivities, but although it poured buckets of water during the day, nearly disintegrating some of the floats, the evening activities continued un-dampened. The junior float, "Pour on the syrup," took first place in the judging.
Queen Kris Hendrickson was presented to the crowd of spectators before the Adrian game, which East Lansing won 13-0, and her court was presented at the halftime ceremonies. At the post-game hour dance, King John McQuit-ty was crowned and his court was introduced to the crowd of dancers. The door prize at the dance, a souvenir football autographed by the members of the football team, was won by Mike Sharp.

UNDERCLASSMEN

Leading the Juniors in a truly prosperous year were Jomp Holland, president; Ed Church, vice-president; Karen Kierstead, secretary; and Jack Seaman, treasurer. The class of 1963 contributed much to the Student Council in the persons of Bob Borosage, vice-president; Jamie Haley, secretary; and Jo Ivey, John Moreland, Bob Peterson, Tom Price, and Nancy Stickle, representatives. Cheer-leading squad members from this Junior Class were Anne Berg, Georgeanne Dickson, Joey Heckert, Vicki Henry, Bettie Jupp, Mary Lou Jupp, and Jean Stanley. To get the year started off right the juniors had a class party on October 4 and won first place in the magazine drive in which Bob Combs was high salesman for the school. The Homecoming float, with the theme, "Ready for the Feast", won first place. Later in the year, the annual J-hop and the Junior-Senior Banquet, at which the seniors were dined and entertained, added to their list of successful achievements.

Under the guidance of Mrs. Hamilton, Mr. Norris, and Mr. Walker, the Class of '64 was led through a very successful year by Mike Phillips as president; Joe Edwards, vice-president; Christine Rumpsa, secretary; and Dave McKeague, treasurer. The sophomores voiced their opinions in Student Council through Tom Black, Keith Cossey, Lesley Heustis, Linda Knapp and Sally Noble. Cheering the reserves on to victory were Beth Byerrum, Judy Covert, Carol Gingras, Linda Knapp, Sally Noble and Vicki Woehler. The sophs bolstered their treasury with an hour dance during football season, the concession stand at Homecoming, and a bake sale, besides placing third in the magazine drive. They also had a second place in the float contest to their credit. Besides their successful class party in the spring, they gave us the memorable Sophomore Prom in March.

The Freshman Class elected Collin Babcock, Kathy Bedford, B. J. White, and JoAnne Hooker to lead them in the roles of president, vice-president, secretary and treasurer, respectively, during their first year at E.L.H.S. Nancy Erickson, Mary Lee Guyer, Barb Lipp, June Lombardini and Betty McQuitty represented the Class of '65 in Student Council. Leading the frosh in cheers were Cathy Cuthbertson, Nancy Dillinger, Mary Ellen Fagan, Denise Foerch, Beverly Henrickson and Jackie Marion. The Freshman Class displayed their school spirit by sponsoring a pep assembly during basketball season and added to their growing treasury with proceeds from the concession stand at the last football game. After getting off to a slow start and placing fourth in the float contest, the frosh came back to be second place winners in the magazine drive. Acting as class advisors, Mr. Seim, Mr. Walsh and Mrs. Ramant helped the frosh to enjoy a very profitable first year at East Lansing High School.

CLASS OF '62

The Class of 1962 made the big jump from the junior high to the then-formidable high school in the fall of '58. We were led by Tom Hewett, president; Gordon Jones, vice-president; John Salzer, secretary; and Bob Salzer, treasurer; and we were represented on the Student Council by Margaret Oates, Jim Edwards, and Annette MacQueen. We had a class party, class swim, and a pizza party at which we approved our sparkling new constitution. Mr. Seim, Mr. Walsh, Mrs. Fair and Mrs. Wood guided us through our freshman year, during which our outstanding accomplishment was a first-place Homecoming float.

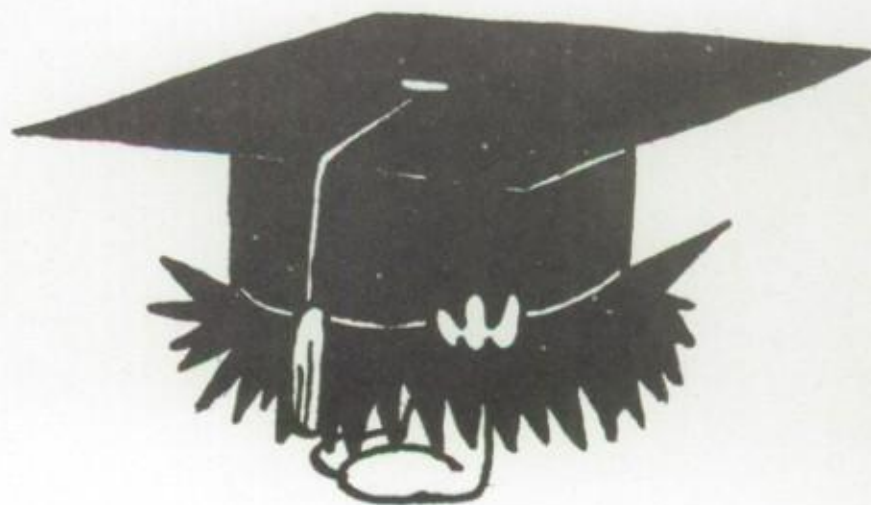

In our sophomore year, we chose Tom Runquist, Mary Heustis, Jerry Dillinger, and Joy Ann Ziegler to guide the class and we sent Margaret Oates, Jim Edwards, Tom Hewett, and Pam Bell to the Student Council. Mrs. Wood, Mr. Stowe, and Mrs. Hill oversaw our class activities, which included a class swim, box social, Bohemian dinner, scavenger hunt, and the Sophomore Prom, "Heaven and Hades." Alan Zinn and Lynn Hedeman were the winning Ugly Men in the CARE crusade, and Tom Runquist and Lynn Hedeman, football, and Bob Workman, basketball, were members of Twin Valley championship teams. In addition to that, Joe Buys set two swimming records.

As juniors, the class selected John McQuitty as president, Joy Ann Ziegler as vice-president, Ian Schmidt as secretary, and Joel Hoffman as treasurer. The Student Council received Jim Edwards, Pam Bell, Tom Runquist, Judy Ground, and John Salzer. We again had the winning Homecoming float, and "Stairway to the Stars," the J-Hop, was a great success. A special feature of the year was the political campaign assembly, paralleling the 1960 presidential election campaign, in which Barb Adams, Jim Edwards, and Tom Klunzinger participated, the first two speaking for Democratic candidates while the latter spoke favoring the Republicans. The mock school election which followed showed a Republican victory, contrary to the nation-wide results. We had several members on the football team, Fritz Kletke was a Twin Valley wrestling champ, and Rick Prince, John Truitt, Bob Brandstatter, and Bob Workman were on the basketball team that won the District and Regional Class-A championships. At the end of the year, Tom Klunzinger prophesied the future for the 1961 graduates at the ever-popular Junior-Senior Banquet.

To lead us in our all-important senior year, we elected Jerry Dillinger president, John Salzer vice-president, Bill Bachmann secretary, and Tom Klunzinger treasurer. Delegated to the Student Council were: Jim Edwards (later succeeded by Gordon Jones), Pam Bell, Judy Ground, Dan Siefer, Tom Hewett, and Carolyn Hickok. Two rather unique events occurred during the year also: our constitution was amended and a class flag was presented to the class council.

Our Senior Play "Onions in the Stew," was presented to an enthusiastic full house. Senior sponsors, Mrs. Lucas and Mr. Pulley, helped us to have a successful get-together party early in the year and the usual Homecoming hour dance after the football game. For the enjoyment of all students, we sponsored the fabulous Senior Prom, which was followed by a late-late party for seniors and their guests.

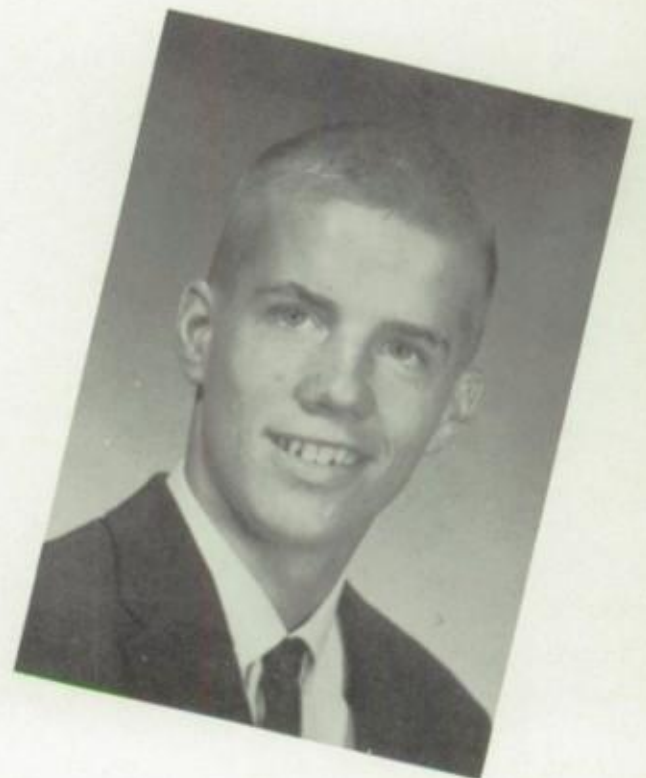

Finally graduation week arrived, beginning with the Senior Honors Assembly, which, with the faculty reception for the cap-and-gowned seniors, closed the last day of school for many of us who were excused from final exams. Baccalaureate and Commencement on June 14 ended our official graduation exercises and our high school career. However, besides these events, there was a mad whirl of traditional end-of-year social activities which included our senior trip to Lost Valley Lodge, the Junior-Senior Banquet, the breakfast before Baccalaureate rehearsal, and finally, the Ceniad-signing and post-Commencement parties. After this flurry of activities and Commencement itself, East Lansing High School's Class of '62 was tired happy, satisfied, and out of school, prepared to face whatever the future might bring.

at the Club.
Good luck
next year.
Tom

Bill,

Choir and English have been a riot
this year. Hope we get some classes together next year.
Good Luck!

Sally Elliott

Willy,
Take it easy this summer with all the girls. Don't be too hard on them and keep playing golf. Someday you may be able to beat Beasey. Lots of luck.

John Hull

Lots of Luck next year and the year
after that and after that.
R.E.O.

Hi B -
Well, we had more fun this year mauling your anatomy, so lets keep it up.
your friend +
mine,
B's

Dear Bill,
You're a real great guy, stay that way always. It's been fun in English. Have fun this summer!

Good Luck Always,
Jackie
Marion

Good Luck,
Bill

Dave Stepp

~~Bill~~ To real great golfer from a better one!
Good luck this summer and the years to come - to badly in Golf I'll try not to heat you to Bob Heald
P.S. HAVE FUN WITH BARB WALKER

Bill, - nice guy
Good Luck
next year
and hope that we can get into some classes
next year!
Pete

Ti ya Benning,
I really had a blast
at that camp even though you didn't throw me in.
Have fun this summer and don't do anything I wouldn't do.

Love ya
~~Barb~~
Fred L.

Bill
What a boy!
Besides being good at sports and everything he finds time to Chase girls. Callin

Bill,
We had a pretty good year this year and participating in athletics with you this year has been fun. I'm looking forward to next season and wish you best of luck next year. Have fun
Craig Telford

(a lot of "this years" huh!)

Willey-
To a real swell guy (I think). Lots of luck in the future.
John
Robb

To the 2nd of Aug,
my deepest regrets over my leading the queen of spades however, it's been a blast knowing you and hope that you will daddy for me at the U.S. Open next year. Good luck never.

Barry

BILL
REMEMBER ALL
THE GOOD TIMES WE HAD AT CAMP TYRONE!
AND AT SUNDAY SCHOOL
LAST WEEK.

DON
STOCKTON

Bill,

Have lots of fun this summer, but don't make out very much. I'll probably see you when you are playing whiffle ball over at Figg's house. Have fun but keep it legal.

Bill -
It's been a blast leaving up
this last year!
Let's do this year!
I'll be with you this summer and keep you swinging all summer (keep up) Good luck always,
I wouldn't (keep up)
have a whiffle stick
HK

Bill Honey,
I really had a riot this year and on the retreat and all. I never had so much fun as I did on the retreat. You guys were really mean. I found out that you lied about something too. But I suppose I'll have to forgive you. You're really a sweet kid and a lot of fun to be with. Take it easy this summer but have fun.
Love ya - lots
Marcia

Dear Bill,
It has been a riot being in all of the activities with us. I have been in have a riot this summer and that the guys will care. Good luck next year. See ya.

pull, or a go real swell guy
It was real nice ~~my~~ choir class wasn't it!!! We had what in that class and at the snowball. Have fun, and be good.

Love ya!

Stitch,

Had a blast this year in Guidance
and at noon-hour.
Don't lose your touch in cards. Bad luck
in the summer.

Dave Warrington

Mr. Stitch,
I hope you had as much fun as I did. Hope we get in some of the same classes of the year. Good luck
next football season.
